Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 23 January 2004.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Huang et al. (US patent 6,151,582).

Huang et al. shows, figure 16, a decision support system for the management of an agile supply chain.

In reference to claims 1-5 and 13, column 19, line 63 to column 20 line 59, shows receiving historical information (specifically line 14), trend information (specifically line 49), specific network information (specifically line 17), regional information (specifically line 44), seasonal prior period information (specifically lines 49-50).

In reference to claims 6-9, the Time-Series Models described from column 56, line 47 to column 57, line 35, clearly shows the claimed elements.

In reference to claim 12, column 66, lines 4-30, show a factor of safety (an out of stock opportunity percent)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3627

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huang et al. in view of Global Drug Bulletin - Industry Report and Sawada (US patent 6,673,619).

Huang et al., as applied above, shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying that the forecast calculation include an illness afflicted population factor and a pivot factor

Global Drug Bulletin - Industry Report teaches that the demand drugs is dependent upon the level of afflicted population, see the "mild flu season".

Based on the teaching of Global Drug Bulletin - Industry Report, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the seasonal factor of Huang to incorporate illness factors, such as flu season level severity, in order to better estimate product demand.

Sawada teaches a time-series model (column 8, lines 29-44), which uses a C ratio to factor in changes in population (pivot factor) in order to produce better results.

Based on the teaching of Sawada, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the time series model of Huang to a C ratio to factor in changes in population (pivot factor) in order to produce better results.

Art Unit: 3627

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael Cuff whose telephone number is (571) 272-6778. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 to 5:30.
